Life of James G. Blaine.

The melancholy death of Mr. Blaine has caused a shock to every citizen of this great republic, regardless of political allegiance, and every intelligent man, woman and child will be eager to know the secrets of the success of this truly great man. They will also be eager to know how it has been possible for a man of such humble origin and pretensions as the deceased statesman to rise to the point of playing so important a part in the destiny of his country as he has done. As is always the case when a great man dies, the market will be flooded with what will be called his "biography." Many of these will be, as they usually are in such cases, very little more than a collection of clippings from old newspapers, and we warn our readers against such "biographies" of this description, because they are comparatively uninteresting, and generally unreliable, if not misleading. Whenever there are several books written on the same subject, and particularly when that subject is the life of some noted public man, there is always one of such books that at once stands out head and shoulders above all the others and that is superior to them in every way. This particular book becomes the "standard work" upon the subject treated of. We think that "The Life and Work of James G. Blaine," published on the Pacific Coast by the Dominion Publishing Company, of Seattle, Wash., is destined to be the standard work on the subject of which it treats. We unhesitatingly express this opinion from the magnificent authorship associated with it. The book itself is written by Prof. John Clark Ridpath, L. L. D., who is unquestionably America's greatest living historian, and who has been engaged on the work for over a year. In his great and laborious work Prof. Ridpath has been ably assisted by General Selah C. Connor, ex-governor of Maine, who has been a life-long personal friend of Mr. Blaine, and is the one man through whose instrumentality Mr. Blaine was first sent to the United States Senate. Others scarcely less distinguished than the illustrious statesman himself have been engaged on the work, by which means the book is replete with illustrations and material that could not otherwise have possibly been secured. The illustrations are beautiful, and constitute of themselves a National Portrait Gallery of the leading men of our time. The book is altogether magnificently gotten up, and both in literary and artistic merit and in mechanical skill, it does ample justice to that truly great American, James G. Blaine. The book is sold only by subscription, and the publisher's advertisement will be found in another column.

An Associated Press dispatch from London, dated the 2nd inst., says: "In the House of Commons to-day Ellis Ashmead Bartlett, Conservative, questioned the Government as to the advice it had received from Hawaii and further desired enlightenment as to what the British Government intended to do in the matter. Sir Edward Gray, Parliamentary Secretary of the Foreign Office, replied in effect that the information received by the Government generally agreed with the cable news, published in the newspapers. He added the Government, as at present advised, did not intend to send warships to Honolulu. The Government considered the lives and property of British subjects in Hawaii safe under American protection. (Cries of Hear! Hear!) Continuing Sir Edward Gray said it was possible a British warship on the way from Acapulco, Mexico, would touch at Honolulu, as she is going to Esquimaux. In conclusion, Sir Edward declared that there was no foundation whatever for the report that the British Government had made a protest to the Government at Washington, regarding the Hawaiian Islands.

On or about April 15th, round trip tickets will be issued to the World's Fair as follows: First-class $72.50; second class, $52.50; T. H. Goodman, General Passenger Agent of the Southern Pacific is now on his way to Chicago to perfect the above arrangement in behalf of his company.

Dr. C. C. O'Donnell has thrown up the contest for the office of Mayor of San Francisco. As far as the report had proceeded he had only gained about 100 votes.

COUNTY ITEMS.

Mrs. J. L. Jordan, who died at South Los Guillicos last week, was a second cousin of Gen. Tom Thumb. The deceased was aged 76 years.

Charles Lindsay and Andy Peterson, son of Jack Peterson, were shooting on the Laguna Saturday, says the Democrat, when coming to a slough they separated so as to take both sides, and as a duck arose Lindsay discharged his gun, and Peterson received most of the charge of No. 4. Fortunately he had a very heavy hunting coat on, which protected his chest, but his hands and legs were dreadfully shot, and twice he fainted during the extraction of the sixteen shot which the doctor took out.

Sonoma county will send a unique exhibit to the World's Fair. It will be a representation of the geysers, one of the natural curiosities of the State. The model will be thirty-two feet long, twenty-eight feet wide and eighteen feet high. One of the great spouting cauldrons of steam will be represented by real rock and imitation in staff, while a background will be painted to represent the most picturesque view of the canyon, from which scores of geysers arise. Artificial lights in various colors will reproduce the peculiar play of colors seen in the gorge. The semblance of the hot springs is to be made by use of steam pipes. In the foreground will be placed a huge allegorical figure of "The Demon of the Geysers," modeled by Rupert Schmid. — Petaluma Argus.

James Baldwin, a young man living at Guerneville, attempted to commit suicide Tuesday while suffering with mental derangement. He had been employed at the Great Eastern quicksilver mine and he was missed from his post Monday. A search was made for him but he afterward returned to his home. A doctor was called in and found his mind wandering. After the doctor's departure he cut a bad gash in his throat and at last accounts he was in a precarious condition. He is well fixed financially and his friends account for his rash act solely on the grounds of insanity. — Santa Rosa Republican.

NO BETTER PROOF.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE NEW YORK WORLD: "Mrs. John Gemmill, of this place, was thrown from a wagon, sustaining a most serious injury to her spine and a helpless cripple for 19 years, unable to walk. Her daughter providentially procured two bottles of ST. JACOBS OIL, which Mrs. Gemmill used. Before the second bottle was exhausted, she was able to walk about, and has since been completely cured." Very truly, M. THOMPSON, Postmaster.

Everybody who took a trip on the Missouri dozen or twenty years ago remembers Captain Dave Silver, one of the handsomest men that ever guided the destinies of those old timers. Captain Silver is still alive—he is somewhere in the south, I think. But wherever he is, he is still the courtly, stately figure that used to stand forward and bow to the passengers leaving the boat at Jefferson City, St. Joe, Omaha or Kansas City—Westport Landing it was then. They all knew young, handsome Dave Silver—they all liked to ride on his boat. It was the Lucas, I think, one of the fastest that ever roled the river. She wore the champion's deer horns on the pilot house for years.

It was hard on Captain Silver for all of the floating palaces to pass out of the river forever, but he had another misfortune. He had a brother. How he loved him! They were inseparable. One day they were standing near the rail of a big boat just as she was pushing off. The brother leaned forward a bit, the rail broke, and before Captain Dave could catch him the man had fallen into the water. The boat swung around at that instant and poor Silver was dragged under the wheel.

"It's Joe!" gasped Captain Dave. That was all he said. He had seen his brother go under the vicious paddles, and he fell into a partial faint. That was one of the reasons that this tall, handsome man, with the elegant manner and gray hair and beard, left the Missouri for the low banked streams of the far south.—Detroit Free Press.

Colorless, Emaciated, Helpless A Complete Cure by HOOB'S SARSAPARILLA.

This is from Mr. D. M. Jordan, a retired farmer, and one of the most respected citizens of Osage Co., N. Y.

"Fourteen years ago I had an attack of the gravel, and have since been troubled with my Liver and Kidneys gradually growing worse. Three years ago I got down so low that I could scarcely walk. I looked more like a corpse than a living being. I had no appetite and for five weeks I ate nothing but gruel. I was badly emaciated, and had no more color than a marble statue, and thought I would try. Before I had finished the first bottle I noticed that I felt better, and the inflammation of the bladder had subsided. I began to feel hungry. After I had taken three bottles I could eat without hurting me. With I got so hungry that I had to eat 5 times a day. I have now fully recovered, thanks to HOOB'S SARSAPARILLA. I feel well and am well. All who know me marvel to see me so well." D. M. JORDAN.

We understand that the case will be appealed to the Supreme Court by Mr. Cooper.

DR. LEAVENWORTH.

The Old Pioneer Dies at His Home in Santa Rosa.

Dr. T. M. Leavenworth, a resident of this valley for many years, died at his home in Santa Rosa last Monday morning at the advanced age of eighty-nine years. The Dr. came to California with Col. Stevenson's regiment in 1847 as Assistant Surgeon in the United States Army. He was the last Alcalde of San Francisco and after holding the office for eighteen months he removed to this valley and purchased the Agua Caliente farm two miles northwest of Sonoma, where he continued to reside for over a quarter of a century. Of late years he has made his home in Santa Rosa, his extreme old age preventing him from taking an active part in public affairs as he had done in the early history of the State. Leavenworth street, San Francisco, was named after the deceased and at one time he owned property in that city worth many thousands of dollars, but he died comparatively a poor man. Dr. Leavenworth was born in Connecticut in 1803.

Death of Jas. McGinty.

Jas. McGinty, the well-known farmer residing a few miles north-east of Glen Ellen, died of inflammation of the bowels last Saturday in San Francisco at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Kuneger. The deceased was visiting his relatives in that city and had been absent from home about three weeks. As he was in fair health when he left, his death was unexpected by his relatives and friends in this valley. Mr. McGinty was a genial, whole-souled gentleman and a kind neighbor. He was the brother of Mrs. Jacob Fridiger, Neil McGinty of Glen Ellen and Mrs. Kuneger of San Francisco. He was a native of County Donegal, Ireland and, aged 45 years. The remains of deceased were brought to this city for interment in the Catholic Cemetery, the funeral taking place from St. Francis' Church last Monday.

The Boggs Carriger Case.

Sixty names have been drawn from the jury box out of which an attempt will be made to secure a jury to try A. B. Carriger for the killing of his brother in this place last Fall. The trial will commence in the Superior Court before Judge Crawford next Monday. Ever since the deplorable tragedy the accused has been confined in the Santa Rosa Jail. He appears to be in good spirits and stoutly maintains that the killing was purely accidental.

City Trustees.

The Board of City Trustees met last Wednesday evening, all members being present except Trustee Litzius, who was absent on account of sickness, consequently the meeting was very quiet and lacked zest.

Clerk Breitenbach's semi-annual report was found to be correct by the Finance Committee and the same was accepted. A sworn statement of the Sonoma Water Works was read by the Clerk, and on motion of Trustee Seipp a committee consisting of Trustees Schocken and Seipp was appointed to ascertain the value of the works.

The sum of $100 on motion of Trustee Trudgen was appropriated for improvements on the Plaza.

One hundred dollars was also appropriated to complete the new bridge on Second-street East.

The following bills were allowed and ordered paid.

RAILROAD LEGISLATION.

The Effect of the Leeds Bill on the Donahue System.

J. F. Bergin, President of the San Francisco and North Pacific Railway, appeared before the Senate Committee on Constitutional Amendments in Sacramento last Tuesday evening and gave his views on the proposed amendments to the present law governing the operation of railroads in this State. The Donahue railway has always been the friend of the people of Sonoma Valley in the matter of fares, freights and accommodations, and any legislation that would cripple the road would be a great misfortune to the section through which it passes.

President Bergin, in the course of his remarks, said his road would be affected disastrously by the Traffic Association amendment. He laid it down as a proposition that could not be refuted that no law could be framed which would reduce the charges of the Southern Pacific without ruining the twenty-nine small railroads of the State. The 165 miles of the Donahue line cost $7,090,000. It is bonded for $4,188,000, upon which there is an interest charge of $209,000 a year. Last year the road made a profit of $130,000. If the Leeds' amendment is adopted the company would lose at the present rate of earnings $140,000 a year. There was no complaint as to the charges of the Donahue line. Two complaints in nine years was the record before the Railroad Commission, both of which were made by the same person and promptly dismissed as soon as investigated. Mr. Bergin declared that Mr. Leeds' figures as to cost of coal did not apply to the Donahue road. That company paid often as high as $14 a ton. The wages paid train men were higher than in any Eastern State, and these things ran in like proportions through the entire business.

"It is my opinion," said Mr. Bergin, "that if this bill passes that instead of fostering the industries of the State, it will deal them a deadly blow. Railroad building will at once stop, and the present facilities will be contracted, and curtailed."

GLEN ELLEN.

J. Fochetti of Sonoma was up last Sunday making it lively for the boys.

A. Sinoni will commence business by a grand opening next Saturday evening.

Wild ducks are plentiful of late and are quite a novelty in this neck of the woods.

N. R. Hanson has greatly improved the outside of his building by a neat coat of paint.

The losses of Glen Ellen Park contemplate extensive improvements in the way of beautifying the grounds.

Robert P. Hill, manager of the farm department at the Feeble Minded Home, was in town last Monday.

Dame Rumor has it that owing to matrimonial intentions mine host Harrison will lose a boarder in the near future.

A grand excursion to the Mechanic's Fair via the Donahue road has been advertised for February 4th. Quite a number will undoubtedly attend.

Notices of an entertainment at Sonoma in aid of the Library in that town have been posted on the bill boards. We hope it may meet with the success it deserves.

A San Francisco detective, who has been nosing around the Home for Feeble Minded for several days, left for San Francisco last Sunday. While awaiting the arrival of the train, two well-known farmers, somewhat shabbily dressed, joined the detective on the platform. It immediately flashed through his mind that his companions were foot pads and that he was in danger of being knocked down and robbed. Not being heeled with a gun he quietly gave the hard looking characters the slip and made his way to a tree near by from one of the branches of which he cut a huge club. Seeing other people arriving he returned to the depot and made his suspicious known to several bystanders. The laugh, however was turned on him when he was informed that the suspicious characters were not foot pads but respectable farmers residing in the neighborhood. Moral: Never judge a man by the coat he wears.

Sonoma's Brandy Product.

Deputy Internal Revenue Collector W. S. Davis was interviewed Saturday in regard to the distilleries of the county. There are fifty-seven regularly registered distilleries in Sonoma county, about forty of which are in active operation and they produced last year about 300,000 gallons of brandy. This year's product, which is about all gauged and in the different warehouses, has not been reported to the central office, and the amount can only be guessed at, but Mr. Davis thinks it will be as large, if not larger than last year. What becomes of it, he says, is a question, but supposes a great deal of it must be exported.—Santa Rosa Democrat.

SCHELLVILLE'S RATTLER.

Matthew Watt visited the metropolis last Wednesday.

Hon. Robt. Howe took a trip to Sacramento last Thursday.

Stephen Akers Jr. was the guest of Master Wm. Stolen of Santa Rosa several days the past week.

The San Luis school will reopen Monday, February 6th, after two months vacation, with Miss Charlotte Smythe as teacher.

Robt. Hall is extending his large orchard. A very choice variety of trees arrived via the Southern Pacific at Schellville the other day for his ranch.

FORTY NINER.

A Curio in Poultry.

M. Creagh is sadly puzzled. When he goes out to his chicken house he looks strange, shakes his head and swears he never knew anything like it before. He has knocked about a couple of summers, but he swears that this beats anything he ever saw, heard or dreamed about. He don't know whether he is hoodooed, locoed, or what is the matter. But he says he does know that he bought two game cocks a few days ago, shut them up in a box, went out next morning and found an egg in the box. Next morning he scratched his head, thought profoundly, but said nothing. Next morning he went out and found another egg. Talk about bearded women, Siamese twins, double-headed negroes or Barnum's mermaids, they don't any of them look respectable when compared with his game roosters. He is going to telegraph Jerry Rusk, Secretary of Agriculture, to come on the first train and make due investigation, for he cannot stand the uncertainty consequent upon the behavior of his roosters much longer, he says.—Santa Rosa Republican.

The occasion was a happy one for the little participants, who laughed and played during the afternoon to their hearts' content. A variety of nice refreshments were served to which all did ample justice. Master Lester received many pretty and useful gifts. The following were those present: Theo. A Lucky Girl.

Some months ago, during the Presidential campaign, the New York Recorder offered to give $5 a week for life to the person who should guess nearest to Mr. Cleveland's popular vote in New York State, the said guess to be sent into the office on a ballot clipped from the paper. Over 3,000,000 guesses were sent in, and the lucky winner of the prize was Miss Emma Volker of Elizabethport, N. J. Her winning guess was 654,907. The official vote, as certified by Secretary of State, was 654,908. Miss Volker says that she dreamed the number. She is but 14, and the money is a godsend to the family, which is poor.

An Enemy Baffled.

There is an enemy with whom thousands are familiar all their lives, because they are born with a tendency to biliousness, with this enemy they are constantly battling with ineffectual weapons. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will battle it. More purgatives will not reform a disordered condition of the liver indicated, but by constipation alone, but also by sick headache, yellowness of the skin and eye balls, nausea, furred tongue and uneasiness, more particularly upon pressure on the right side, upon and below the short ribs. Avoid drastic purgatives which gripe and weaken the intestines, and substitute this world-famous and biliousness-curing, which likewise removes material, stomachic and kidney complaints, rheumatism and nervousness. As a laxative of the bowels, painless but effective, it improves appetite, sleep and the ability to digest, and possesses the additional advantage of a standard tonic.
